largest institution of its kind in this section of the south, were suspended for shearing their tresses.

The hospital's rule against bobbed hair had been broken. Six of the girls in charge of the institution, friends.

They told of midnight bobbing parties in the dormitories at which there was "wholesale slaughter of hair—a woman's crowning glory."

But the girls reported the rule was "stupid."

"Why," countered one, "bobbed hair is more sanitary. We don't have so much of it to wash when we come off watch with contagious cases."

"But bobbed hair makes you look young and giddy," the management protested, "and detracts from the dignity of your professional appearance."

"Huh," sniffed the girls, "if there's a time anybody wants to see one young and giddy, it's when he's sick and."

The management, though, was unrelenting.

"Go home for a month," it insisted. The Orleans Parish Medical Society has tried to solve the issue. But many of its members think the management took too stringent action. And they agree with the girls that short locks are all right.

The New Orleans Federation of Women's Clubs, likewise is split on the question. Many of its members are appealing for leniency for the suspended girls.

But it looks like the matter will be carried to the legislature. For Charity Hospital, accepting state patients free, receives aid from the state each year.

Meanwhile, lots of hand-hands and wives aren't speaking at the breakfast table.

a fair service if the problem of individual distribution under a thousand different individual ownerships could have been solved.

Lack Organization

But it wasn't. Although heroic efforts were made to organize them into a complete system, jitneys were operating where the profits were and neglecting the outskirts so that many housewives were unable to come to the downtown section at all. Home owners worried with the fear of devaluation of values, and neighboring cities were laughing in their sleeves at Toledo's plight and were taking advantage of its situation to boom their own business. Jitneys were set at ten cents, but the plan didn't work. The situation was such that jitney operators started in to make hay while the sun shone. The result was the highest transportation charges in the history of the state. People paid what was demanded or walked.

Business conditions became so depressed that the Merchants Association and other organizations intervened and demanded that the street cars be returned. The city council, unable to do it with the mayor present, met without his knowledge and by a vote of thirteen to two took action which resulted in its going to a vote of the people. The people unanimously demanded the street cars back and got them.

has had the matter under consideration for some time. I have talked to the members about the Pleasure Pier for next season. Talk is cheap; what we want is action."

The mayor then explained the amount of money necessary to put the pier in operating condition. Rough estimates advanced on this cost were in the neighborhood of $8,000.

In addition to the money which has already been spent on the Pleasure Pier bridge and the submarine cable, it will be necessary for the lessee or operator of the pier to repair the approach to the bridge. Temporary repairs can be made for approximately $1,200. To make permanent repairs, however, it will cost some $3,200, the mayor said.

Repair of the submarine cable will necessitate an expenditure of from $400 to $1,000.

The run-around on the dance pavilion will cost between $500 and $1,200.

Lessee to Make Repairs

In the request for bids on the operation of the Pier the lessee must first finance the repair of the resort, it was said today. From the first revenues accruing from the operation of the place he will be reimbursed.

After the lessee has been reimbursed the net receipts of the Pier will be split between the lessee and the city. It is to ascertain the best proposition for the city that the bids have been asked.

Probability of the city appointing an overseer who would act in the capacity of the "watchdog of the treasury" was voiced by the mayor.

"We will of necessity have to have someone over there to look out for the city's interests," the mayor said, "and see that the regulations laid down to the lessee are observed."

CITY BUYS 10 CARS
OF SHELL FOR STREETS

Authorization of the purchase of 20 cars of shell for the streets was made by the city commission on motion of the mayor at the request of City Engineer J. D. Worland.

With the return of fair weather work of grading and repaving the streets will be resumed, it was said by the city engineer.

"I was weak and nervous and run-down," writes Mrs. Edith Sellers, of 466 N. 21st St., East St. Louis, Ill. "I couldn't sleep nights, I was so restless. I felt tired and not in condition to do my work. I would have such pains in my stomach that I was afraid I would get down in bed. My mother came to see me and suggested that I use

I felt better after my first bottle. I had a better appetite. It seemed to strengthen and build me up. I am so glad to recommend Cardui for what it did for me. I haven't needed any medicine since I took Cardui, and I am feeling fine.

Nervousness, restlessness, sleeplessness—these symptoms so often are the result of a weak, run-down condition, and may develop at any time. If you are troubled in this way, take Cardui. It sold everywhere.

APRIL FOOL'S DAY UNPOPULAR FOR CUPID

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 2.—Whether or not there is any significance in couples refusing to be married on April 1—"All Fools' Day"—or not is a matter of speculation, but the fact remains that an unusually small number of licenses are issued on that day.

There was only one marriage license issued from the office of the county clerk here Tuesday. Records for 1923 show that not a single couple applied for a license a year ago, and the year before that, just one was issued. Examination of records for a period of five years back also shows that the same condition has prevailed many years.

Thrift is saving. The secret of wise living is saving time, energy, health, food and money. The people that succeed in life are the ones who live simply, spend wisely and use their energy and time to the best advantage. Those who start saving when they are children will grow to be independent. Thrift is a habit that we should learn in our early life. Children can learn economy by saving part of their earnings. They can learn how to save by taking care of their clothes and eating good food which will make them grow.

We can be patriotic citizens by saving our health, food materials and money. If every individual person in our nation were to be thrifty our United States would be an independent nation.

We should save for old age so we won't have to have anybody take care of us.

SHIREVEPORT, La.—Chief of Police William Best, of South Highland serving as traffic officer the other day was run down by the car in a funeral procession and severely injured. Best was at a street intersection when the automobile with the preacher leading the funeral procession was observed to be going about 35 miles an hour. The chief set out after the leading car in a borrowed automobile when the hearse crashed into his car from the rear.

THIBODAUX, La., April 2.—A bumper Irish potato crop is expected here, but indications that the onion crop will fall 15 per cent short of what it was last year are reports brought into town by farmers. About 200 cars of roasting ears will be shipped out of here during the coming season, the 1914 average being between 700 and 800 a year.

JENNINGS, La., April 2.—Because of almost continuous rains, the first port try shipment out of this parish was very light. Mrs. W. M. Stafford, home demonstration agent, said. For the first shipment, broilers brought 37 cents per pound, and old hens 18 cents.

However, Comma—
Odds and Ends and Comment on Our Morning Mail

Now you can pull the electric light cord, go to bed, and the light will not go out until you have tucked yourself in.

All this is made possible by the new delayed action lamp switch, the latest electrical convenience development.

After the electric light has been turned off this switch maintains a dim light for one minute longer, enabling one to leave the room or get into bed without undressing.

Probably it will save a lot of broken toes, shins and furniture, for the half of those in Port Arthur who work nights.

Of interest to Port Arthur, but dependent solely on whether ultimately we'll get out of these machines on our coast line.

The latest addition to the U. S. coast defense is a giant billion candle power searchlight, which weighs eight thousand pounds, and is ten feet in diameter. It is mounted on a skeleton tower 100 feet tall patterned after the towers carrying heavy electric transmission lines.

The balance of the searchlight is so accurate that two men operating levers can raise or lower it in less than two minutes.

As in France a man is guilty of a crime until he is proved innocent, in Chile a man is considered guilty of having set his house on fire until he proves that he had nothing whatever to do with it.

When a fire occurs the owner or the occupants of the burned building are promptly arrested and brought before a court of law. There, legally speaking, "the burden of proof is on him."

Needless to say, there are very few "fire sales" in Chile.

The Saturday Evening Post tells a story of an eastern textile manufacturer of middle age who rebelled against high taxes. He closed his mill, liquidating his capital and put the proceeds into tax-free securities. He now spends his time in travel and recreation. This is what he says about it:

"Why should I keep factory hours, subject my capital to the risks of business, wear myself out in the daily grind, and then hand over fifty-eight per cent of my profits to the federal government, and another large slice to the state and local tax collectors? My tax-free bonds yield me more dollars than I can earn when I was a useful and productive citizen now puts a premium on my idleness."

Lazy wealth will enjoy another year of idleness in tax-exempt bonds, but public demand for a square deal in taxation grows stronger every year.

President Coolidge, in his Lincoln Day New York speech on tax reduction said:

"If we had a tax whereby on the first working day of the government took 5 per cent of your wages, on the second day 10 per cent, on the third day 20 per cent, on the fourth day 30 per cent, on the fifth day 40 per cent, how many of you would continue to work on the last two days of the week? It is the same with capital. Surplus income will go into tax-exempt securities. It will refuse to take the risk incidental to earning income in business. This will make the nation which is dependent on surplus income to pay for new capital, and result in a marked increase in cost of living."

"The high prices paid and low prices received on the farm are directly due to our present method of taxation. I shall illustrate by a simple example: A farmer ships a steer to Chicago. His tax, the tax on the railroad transporting the animal and of the yard where the animal is sold, so that the price of the animal to the packer is the price of the animal plus the price of the tax on the New England state manufacturer. The manufacturer's tax goes into the price to the wholesaler, and the wholesaler's tax goes into the price to the retailer, who in turn adds his tax to his price to his purchaser. So it may be said that if the farmer ultimately wears the shoes he pays exorbitant taxes from the farm to his feet."

"It is essential, therefore, for the good of the people as a whole that we pay not so much attention to the tax paid directly by a certain number of the taxpayers but we must devote our efforts to relieving the tax paid indirectly by the whole people."

The foregoing is a good common sense, whether approved by a republican or a democratic president.

You remember a year ago, Mr. Gary told us, "we do not intend to wreck the industry and that is what would happen if we adopted an eight-hour day."

You remember also, how, later in the year, the U. S. Steel Corporation, under pressure of public opinion, was forced to abolish its 12-hour schedule for the modern, humane workday.

Now Mr. Gary has just issued an annual report. It shows a gain in gross business of $200,000,000 over the year previous.

It shows all charges and preferred dividends of 7 per cent paid.

It shows $16.45 a share on the common stock as compared with $2.91 the year previous and $2.21 the year before that.

At a profit Mr. Gary appears to be a good profit maker.

Nothing is impossible in our day and age. The former crown prince of Germany has actually gone to work, unless the report from Prussia is a hoax. The experience, according to the story, is selling agricultural machinery and working up a good business among the Germans.

Think about heading events into the future.

Y. M. B. L. CALLS MASS MEETING TO PROTEST PLEASURE PIER TO PUBLIC

Every man and woman interested in retaining the Pleasure Pier for the public should attend the citizens mass meeting called by the Y. M. B. L. to begin at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the chamber of Commerce rooms.

If citizens do not display a sufficient interest in the matter they stand ready to lose their citizenship rights to the Pier, one time built and dedicated to the recreation of the people of Port Arthur. The people have gotten comparatively little out of it, it is true. The buildings have been allowed to become in a bad state of repair. The approach has been condemned as unsafe by the city engineer and the Pleasure Pier closed. Closed it will remain until these defects have been remedied.

Any attempt to lease the Pleasure Pier to private interests, especially in the circumstances which seem to be seriously considered by city commission, should be fought to a standstill by the people.

It is no concern of the public that a political debt must be paid to a resident of Beaumont.

It is a vital concern that their rights are threatened by such a payment.

A contract, A. A. Gunter told the Y. M. B. L. directorate Tuesday, is being drawn up ready for some one to sign.

Mayor Logan has called for bids to be opened April 8.

Meantime, according to Gunter and other citizens who have interviewed the mayor on the subject of operation of the pier, the encouragement they felt had been tendered them is turning cold. They say they feel they are being "played with." The men who have interviewed the commission on the subject did so as representatives of Port Arthur civic organizations, who considered it to be in the public's interest to insist that the public get fair play in the deal.

This, of course, lies largely with the public itself. If the people are sufficiently interested in their own rights and privileges they will make known that fact by attending the mass meeting. If they favor operation of the Pleasure Pier by private interests it is, likewise, their own affair. But in any event the matter should call for a showdown and the incident closed.

After the horse gets away there is no imperative need for looking the barn door.

KANSAS CITY REFUSES TO VISIT US

Now comes definite word from the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce that its trade delegation of 123 representative business men which will visit principal cities along the route of the Kansas City Southern in middle April, will be unable to accept the invitation of Port Arthur.

This is regrettable. Port Arthur had expected to be able to play the part of host to the Kansas City delegation. We believe that a gathering of these and our own citizens would have resulted advantageously to both cities. Certainly Kansas City could not lose by extending a friendly handclasp.

It will be futile, of course, since that already has been done, to remind the delegation from Kansas City, home of the Kansas City Southern, that Port Arthur is quite as important so far as that line is concerned as its southern terminus as Kansas City is as the northern, and that the two cities because of this have certain interests and opportunities in common. Port Arthur would think little of the incident if it were not for the avowed purpose of the delegation to make an extensive tour of the region traversed by the KCS. In this program the Kansas Cityites will visit Beaumont April 19. A trip of 20 additional miles, which would not inconvenience them in the least but instead would prove an entertaining and educational eye opener would have sufficed to have brought them to Port Arthur, where every courtesy had been offered by our own Chamber of Commerce and Shipping. Inspection of the export opportunities of this port may not prove profitable for Kansas City now but there's a day coming when it will.

The decision savors of the deliberate. If Kansas City folk do not care to visit Port Arthur that is, of course, their business. But if the Kansas City Southern's relations with Port Arthur are such as to influence away from us as important a trade delegation as that from Kansas City, the railroad's home office, then it becomes Port Arthur's business.

We have suffered, and are suffering sufficiently at the hands of this monopoly.

Port Arthur long since has ceased to expect fair play but never will cease to demand it.

GROWING COTTON IN THE SOUTH

Cotton production in South Africa has been increasing steadily since 1918. In 1921 the crop amounted to 2,400,000 pounds of lint. This is about 4,800 bales of 500 pounds each compared with 1,600,181 pounds for the previous crop year. It is estimated that the area under cotton cultivation in South Africa at present is approximately 20,000 acres. Practically all the cotton is exported.

Cotton experts are to be sent to Zululand to open a quarter of a million acres of good cotton soil in that country. English cotton men say that in South Africa there are four million acres of virgin land suitable for the production of high class cotton. John Bull is growing nervous. He demands cheap cotton. He can't get it in America.

Quillen's Paragraphs

A profit is not without honor unless you have to bribe an official to get it. Honesty is the best policy, and it is hard to beat as a political platform.

At present the art of conversation consists largely in beginning sentences with a capital "I."

The man who thinks beer naughty usually holds forth at his best after a third cup of coffee.

The test of any philosophy is to hear the attending physician say it is only a matter of hours.

Even if a red flag should appear on the capitol, people would think it meant a sheriff's sale.

A kick town is a place where culture means hand-painted chimneys. If every man is able to get in touch with the dead, we hope they commune with constitutional rights.

You are not a genuine "young intellectual" unless you think you are the center of American culture.

Diplomacy is educational. "Economic pressure" sounds so much more highbrow than "stand and deliver."

The great problem is to frame a tax measure that will get sufficient revenue and still get sufficient votes.

Valor is the quality that enables a man to look further instead of taking what the clerk wishes on him.

A kick town is a place where callers always find you in and the neighbors always find you out.

You can repaint the chairs yourself at a cost of 60 cents, if you don't care how they look.

'April Shower' For Miss Helen Crum, Bride-Elect, Proves Charming Event

AMONG the charming hostesses being extended Miss Helen Crum, an attractive bride-elect of the month, was the daintily appointed one o'clock luncheon yesterday, which had as hostesses Mrs. G. K. Lomax and Mrs. B. B. Carroll at the latter's home, 2030 Fifth street, Miss Crum's marriage to C. C. Perry will be an event of April 17.

The affair assumed the nature of an April shower, the shower being presented Miss Crum during the late hours of the afternoon. A profusion of gorgeous roses of sweet peas in pink and white tints gave floral beauty to the home, offering a lovely setting for the luncheon and the afternoon diversion of forty-two. Six tables of players engaged the informal diversion.

A tempting two-course luncheon, reflecting the favored motif, was served on attractively decorated trays. Pink tapers burned brightly in crystal holders and place cards picturing April showers marked each place.

The delectable cups were of the chosen blue and were overflowing with miniature parcels of pink and white tints. Fluffs of pink tulle adorned the crystal holders and the crystal bowls, filled with the lovely spring blossoms.

At the time appointed for the shower, Miss Crum was asked what she wanted most. It came in an April shower. After replying that she would like to have a parasol she was told to look for one, and this she found in the dining room, housing many prettily wrapped packages, which she later discovered to be beautiful gifts from her admiring friends. The parasol, which Miss Crum found, was decorated with the pink and white colors and centered the dining room table.

The personal of the charming complement included Miss Helen Crum, Mrs. G. K. Lomax, Mrs. B. B. Carroll, Mrs. F. L. Tilton, Mrs. A. N. Dobbs, Mrs. H. F. Barker, Mrs. Charles W. Hughes, Mrs. R. L. Rattan, Mrs. C. L. Baker, Mrs. John Cress, Mrs. L. F. Chapman, Mrs. W. H. Crum, Mrs. W. S. Martin, Mrs. Robert R. Stoddard, Mrs. M. C. Cochran, Mrs. C. H. Barnes, Mrs. M. F. Hedges, Mrs. W. L. Canada, Mrs. A. D. Scott, Mrs. W. H. Fuller, Mrs. S. D. Wall, Mrs. W. W. Winton, Mrs. R. C. Saffler and little daughter, Betty Jean, and the hostesses, Mrs. G. K. Lomax and Mrs. B. B. Carroll.

HOW TO BE HEALTHY

BY LILLIAN LEITZEL
World's Greatest Aerial Gymnast

Most persons who do a daily dozen get little benefit from their efforts, for they do not know really how to exercise.

They go through their count, more or less diligently, and then quit—long before they are tired.

No benefit can be derived from exercise unless one keeps at it until he actually feels it.

No matter what the form of the exercise or sport, one should never stop until he is tired. This doesn't mean work to the point of exhaustion, which is the other extreme, but work until it is a little weary.

Whatever you do, do it with interest. Don't merely play at it. Pitch right in with vim—be it dancing, hand standing, swimming or in-door exercise. Feel it. Don't be afraid; it won't hurt you.

If looked at in the proper light, even the most drudging housework can be made to be both pleasant and beneficial.

Take scrubbing floors, for instance. Take it as an exercise, not as a duty. With hand outstretched, shoulders back, and every muscle straining, working the scrubbing brush makes for grace and beauty.

The same with other household tasks—sweeping, dusting or washing clothes. Do it as an exercise and make your housework pleasant.

And remember at all times: The only benefit derived from exercise starts from the time you begin to feel it. All that goes before is merely preparatory warming up. But to derive the fullest benefit, you must also learn the art of relaxing.

MRS. GILBERT WAS FAST LOSING OUT

Fort Sam Houston Resident Is Soon Restored to Health Taking Stella Vitae

"A few months ago I was going down hill and fast losing weight, but Stella Vitae has turned things right around for me and I am now gaining back all I had lost," said Mrs. Willie Gilbert, 1207 N. Tilden St., Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, the other day.

"I suffered a long time from a serious female trouble that was just dragging me down to my grave. Terrible pains from indigestion just racked my body and my back hurt like it would kill me. My head ached, too, something fierce, and after I would be seized with dizzy spells and would almost fall to the floor. My nerves were all on edge and it was almost impossible for me to get any restful sleep. I lost ten pounds in three months and seemed to be going from bad to worse."

"Stella Vitae soon got at the seat of my trouble and I never have a pain in my back or suffer from headaches. My sleep is sweet and restful and I am gaining in weight right along."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.—adv.

The decorations were arranged by Mrs. Henry C. Garrett and Mrs. J. A. Tolley.

SCOUTS ACTIVE IN CLEANING UP

Put garbage and trash cans and boxes out in the streets and avenues, and not in the alleys, during cleanup week. Many of the alleys are impassable and the wagons are using the streets and avenues.

This is the word given out today from Scout headquarters regarding the city-wide cleanup campaign which Port Arthur Boy Scouts are waging here. Two wagons instead of one are being used in the cleanup areas this week to speed up the cleanup, Scout officials said.

One of the Scoutmasters is writing personal letters to all the residents in the section of the city assigned his Scouts for cleaning up during the present campaign.

Fellowship of Prayer

WEDNESDAY Singleness of Purpose

Read Mt. 6:24-34. Text: 6:24. No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate one, and love the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

"Business" is in the main honest and honorable. It is the world's work. When Christian men, ready to apply the fundamental teachings of Jesus to all sides of life, go into business, they find that the main lines of business are meant to proceed on Christian principles. The flagrantly un-Christian phases of business life appear almost entirely in connection with the desire to become rich.

MEDITATION: Happy is the man whose understanding of the world's work is such that in doing his part he has a sense of duty and pleasure are both gratified. The selfish man is always facing the alternative of gratifying himself or following the sense of duty. If one's life is actuated by unselfish principles and the welfare of others becomes first in one's desire, then duty is a pleasure. This is the lesson Jesus sought to teach as the way in which human life might be lived in satisfying harmony with the wish of God.

PERSONAL QUESTION Do I realize that my satisfaction in honest work is God given?

PRAYER: O God, our Father, teach us to be good workmen of thine. Let thy blessings rest upon the common toil of men. Quicken our apprehension that we may understand the eternal significance of our daily life. Inspire right choices and worthy companionship. Amen.

Makes You Feel 'Cheap'

Nobody knows better than the boy or girl who has been slighted time and again by their supposed "best friend," how humiliating it is to have to stand for such "cutting" things when they know they can expect nothing more as long as they don't look attractive on account of a pimply, blotchy or bumpy skin.

But such humiliations don't have to be put up with. Any boy or girl who is troubled with these skin blemishes can get rid of them if they will just use Black and White Ointment. The fact that Black and White Ointment sells at the tremendous price of nearly two million packages a year shows how popular it is. It is economically priced, in liberal packages. Any dealer can supply you with it. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size.—adv.

"When I suggested, little Marquise, that I might give up John more easily than the boy he looked sure, but he managed to ask:
"Then you don't intend to give me up, Leslie?"
For answer I questioned him:
"What do you think would happen in this world, John, if every woman would refuse to forgive the man she married all the sins and mistakes he made before he married her, or, as in your case, before he even knew her? I'm going to try and forget it all, dear. It may take some time but I think I can do it. Oh, John, I want to forget, I want to forget, for unless I do I shall never be happy again."
John tried to pull me over to him. "No, don't," said, involuntarily, "I just can't bear it now, you know."
"Then you haven't really forgiven me."
"Yes, I have—or rather I have nothing to forgive. I just can't quite get over my disappointment in you. I think, now there is nothing in all the world so terrible to bear as the disappointment of shattering ideals."
"Some day when I have forgotten, some day when I shall have put the past I thought you were out of my heart, I will, I hope, love the man you really are."
"Leslie, I am only human," Jack said in a suffocating voice.
"I know it—I have just found it out. I made you a god and I have found the feet of clay that all women probably do, who let their love endow a man with superhuman qualities."
It seemed to me I must be alone. I must have time to adjust myself. I got to my feet somewhat unsteadily, and walked into the next room where the baby lay—Jack Alden Prescott, Jr.
I felt my lips curl into a rather painful smile as I remembered Jack's mother saying what a terrible thing it was that we should give Jack's name to a baby of whom we knew nothing except that in its veins there was none of the splendid old and staunch Puritan blood of her son's forefathers.
In John Alden Prescott, Jr.'s veins was the blood of the old Puritans of which she was so proud, but her loved son had placed the bar sinister across his forehead.
As I thought this, I knew that my duty was clear. It remained for me to give John Alden Prescott, Jr., his father's name. It remained for me to say nothing to anyone, not even his mother, of what John had told me. It remained for me to keep silent, even when I knew the "damned" tongues were buzzing about my head.
So I went toward the little bed upon which my baby was sleeping. Consciously, I clasped him to my heart.
"Oh, baby, baby, you are mine! And I love you perhaps more because out of all the world now, I choose you. And I am proud that I am big enough to give you your father's name. You need never know."
Little Marquise, the tears are blotting the paper. I will write no more.

RELIEVED HIM RIGHT AWAY
A Houston man heartily recommends Merrittone to those suffering from Stomach Trouble or Indigestion.

"It gives me real pleasure to recommend Merrittone to my friends and acquaintances," said Mr. Frank Rizzo of 606 25th street, Sunset Heights, Houston, in talking to one of the Merrittone men at the Public Drug Store, No. 2, the other day.
"You see it is this way. I was in pretty bad shape with my stomach. Indigestion had bothered me, and badly too, for years. Everything I ate formed an acid and gas in my stomach with dizzy spells and shortness of breath often following. I lost my appetite, was depressed and hardly able to do my work at all. The pains in my stomach at times were almost unbearable.
"I had often heard of Merrittone and had read about it in the papers. So I got a bottle and began taking it. Before the week was out I was so much better that I felt like punishing myself, somehow for not having taken it years before.
"I had hardly finished the first bottle when I found that I could eat anything I wanted without any ill effects whatever afterward. My appetite returned and soon I could do a real day's work and was really enjoying life again.
"I have nearly finished the prescribed course of five bottles and I am in perfect health again, thanks entirely to Merrittone."
People all over this section of the state are writing us about the gratifying results they are obtaining through taking Merrittone and well they might for Merrittone is a natural remedy, tuning up the entire digestive system just as nature would tune it up—gentle, but persistently. Merrittone guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money will be cheerfully refunded.
Call at the Owl Drug Store, Houston, Avenue Drug Store, or the American Pharmacy. The Merrittone men there will be glad to tell you more about this excellent medicine.

CINCINNATI, April 2.—The loss of their beloved leader, Pat Moran, at the spring training camp is not going to help the spirit of the Reds. The death of Pat Moran is a blow to Cincinnati's hopes. # Untamed "Wolf of Wall Street", Plans in Prison For Financial Come-Back

HOPE TO WIN BACK FORTUNE

He's 60 Now But Full Of Fight

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
The News Special Writer
Caldwell, N. J., April 2.—David Lamar, "The Wolf of Wall Street," a federal prisoner in the Essex County Penitentiary here, hasn't been tamed yet.

With the same spirit that made him such a terror on the Street, he is taking his sentence lightly.

"Just another act in a comedy of errors," he smiled, "a comedy that has been more than eight years in the acting."

As the setting sun cast the shadows of bars across "Liberty Hall," the prison's reception room, where we sat and chatted, Lamar detailed the several acts of this comedy:

Act the First: Together with eight others Lamar was indicted for violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, section one, by combining to restrain foreign commerce.

"Yet all of us, with one exception," he said in an aside, "were officers and directors of the American Anti-Trust League—an organization which for years had been fighting trust combinations."

Act the Second: Conviction, followed by eight years of appeal and court litigation, which couldn't be started off.

Act the Third: When Lamar finally went to prison.

"The only person ever sent to jail for violating this section of the law," he added.

Act the Fourth: Appeals had been taken to the Supreme Court of the country four times by the leading lawyers—but with no avail. So Lamar, in jail, sues out a writ of his own.

"And I soon hope to be back in New York," he says.

According to Warden Hosp, Lamar made application for this writ on the ground that he was locked up in a penitentiary, while he should be held only in a jail! The court held that there was some merit to this contention, says the warden. Lamar was to be turned over to a United States marshal who would take him over to New York and put him in the custody of the federal court there. Appeal was taken from this view, and later dropped. Lamar wanted to go back on the first writ, but some legal hitch developed. So the next act of this comedy of errors was deferred. But it will come in time—even if it is at the end of the year's sentence—and then Lamar hopes to have its setting back on Wall Street. "Wall Street thinks he's dead."

But the men there aren't going to take his return very seriously. For they believe the old power of "The Wolf" is gone forever.

But once they had trembled at his name. For Lamar was a dour, operator, relentless in his heyday. He made millions and lost them. But he always came back.

In 1913 he was convicted of impersonating a United States officer and was sentenced to two years in the federal prison at Atlanta. And then the spell was broken. He was indicted again.

His power fell away.

But some day he hopes to regain it—even though he is close to 60 now.

INFANT TRAVELER

LIVERPOOL, April 2.—Mary Patton, seven months old, reached Liverpool recently after voyaging 3000 miles from Toronto. She was cared for by a woman passenger and the ship's nurses.

It Started Something

"I have not said anything to you, but have been saying to others and have induced many to take your medicine and be cured. May's Wonderful Remedy is correctly named. It removed stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once, which four doctors said would require an operation; also the bloodiness and indigestion." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—adv

Imples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. It is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or get rid of. The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes rosy and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S. S. S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S. S. S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

To Remain Out

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 2.—Instruction for all coal miners in the southwest to remain on strike were sent out by union leaders here today following failure to reach an agreement. About 2,000 men are affected. Union leaders placed the burden for the strike on the mine owners because of the latter's refusal to keep the 1923 contract which expired March 31 in force until a new agreement could be reached by arbitration.

The surface of the earth is rarely free from seismic disturbance.

MOONLIGHT GOLF

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Radium golf balls may be the new thing. A moonlight 18 hole match was played here recently and the players reported no trouble in keeping track of the balls. Inasmuch as the moon can't shine every night, it may be that luminous golf balls will be made to accommodate the nocturnal fans.
